The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 38-51 have been renumbered 26-39, respectively.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 26-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Foy.

Foy discloses, Figs. 1-8, using dimensioned form-work panels 7 with a corner bracket 1 in making a dimensioned building member. An outer surface of the bracket body, as along 3 or 4 or 5, contacts the form-work panels and is connected thereto. The outer surface of the bracket is configured to impart a shape to the building member as along 2. The recitation of "U.S.-dimensioned" or "metric-dimensioned" does not define any structure or feature differing from what is disclosed within Foy. The terms "U.S.-

dimensioned" and "metric-dimensioned" only serve to define any given dimension. The corner bracket of Foy can be utilized with any given dimension of panel, (i.e., any given dimension of length, width, and thickness). Therefore, no differentiation is made between the language of the instantly rejected claims and Foy. The rejected method claims merely define a corner bracket assembled to a panel or panels. Indeed, Foy discloses a plurality of dimensions of building member as, for example, in Figs. 5, 6, and 7.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 26-39 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 15, 17, 20, 22-24, and 26-30 of copending Application No. 10/189,617 in view of either of Riehl or Podgurski. Claims 26-39 of the instant application define the invention presented in claims 15, 17, 20, 22-24, and 26-30 of copending Application No. 10/189,617 minus the specific reference to a chamfered building member, assembling using clamps, bolts, or pins, and the bracket having a body and leg that are not symmetrical. However, each of Riehl and Podgurski disclose providing a bracket for forming a chamfered building unit, assembling using bolts, 34 of Podgurski, or pins, 5 of Riehl, and providing an asymmetrical bracket. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to add to the invention defined by claims 15, 17, 20, 22-24, and 26-30 of copending Application No. 10/189,617 a bracket surface to create a chamfered building member, the step of attaching the bracket to the forms utilizing bolts or pins, and the step of providing an asymmetrical bracket, to thus form a building unit with an aesthetic appearance as well as securely attach the bracket to the form boards.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.
